CARE GUIDE

Tiles & Surfaces

Quality porcelain and ceramic tiles are among the easiest surfaces to live with. A simple routine keeps floors and walls looking their best, indoors and out.

01

Everyday care

- Sweep or vacuum loose grit regularly, it is the main cause of surface wear.
- Damp mop with warm water and a pH-neutral cleaner, then let dry.
- Wipe up spills promptly, especially oil, wine and acidic liquids.

02

What to avoid

- No harsh acids, bleach or ammonia on polished or textured surfaces.
- No wax, oil-based soaps or coatings, they leave a dull film.
- No abrasive pads or steel wool that can scratch the glaze.

03

Grout & sealing

Keep grout lines clean with a soft brush and a pH-neutral cleaner. Natural stone and some grouts benefit from a suitable breathable sealer, reapplied as needed.

04

Matt & textured finishes

Slip-rated and outdoor tiles

Textured and anti-slip surfaces hold a little more grip and can need a stiff brush for a deeper clean.

Outdoors, rinse off leaf litter and organic matter to prevent staining and slippery build-up.

A NOTE ON VARIATION

Slight differences in shade, tone and texture are a natural feature of fired tiles, not a fault.

05

Good to know

- Check every tile before laying, once laid, tiles are considered accepted.
- Keep a few spare tiles from the same batch for any future repair.
